The German Young Geomorphologists invite all interested young researchers in geomorphology and related fields to join the 14th International Young Geomorphologists' Meeting at the Castle Rieneck, Germany (c. one hour from Würzburg) June 26th - 28th

The meeting will provide an ideal opportunity to present your current work, to discuss problems and receive constructive feedback! We want to highlight our interest in solving problems that occur during the empirical or writing period of your research.

Preliminary selection of events:

- your BSc/MSc and PhD studies: oral, poster, or spotlight presentation and extensive discussions
- field trip to geomorphological highlights of the surrounding area
- keynote lecture by Annegret Larsen (Assistant Professor at Wageningen University & Research)
- crowd-solving session: let’s join our ideas and skills and find solutions to your challenges/problems!

The costs for the meeting will be c. 50.- € for full board!!! Information on registration will follow soon.

Thus, save the date! Please also feel free to register with our mailing list (email to jgtreffen@gmail.com) to receive updates on the meeting in June and information on additional activities of the Young Geomorphologists!

Journey

By car

The venue is located between Würzburg, Frankfurt, and Fulda. We recommend sticking to your navigation system of choice. Nonetheless, here is a short description on how to get to the venue.

From the north (e.g. direction from Hannover)
From motorway A7 and change to A66 in the direction of Frankfurt / Hanau / Fulda-Süd at the three-leg-interchange Fulda. After ~ 25 km exit the motorway at Schlüchtern-Süd and proceed in the direction of Schlüchtern-Süd / Steinau-Ost (turn right). In the town of Steinau an der Straße turn left at the traffic lights to proceed in the direction of Jossa. After c. 10 km, turn left to stay in the direction of Jossa. In Jossa, turn right in the direction of Obersinn / Mittelsinn / Burgsinn. After passing these villages (c. 20 km), you will arrive in Rieneck, where you take the exit Rieneck-Nord and follow the map below.

From the south/east (e.g. direction from Munich / Ulm / Nuremberg)
From motorway A7 in northward direction take the exit No.103 Kitzingen in the direction of Kitzingen / Biebelried and follow the B8. If you are coming from motorway A3, take the exit for the interchange at Bibelried to change to A7 in the direction of Ulm / Rothenburg, but take the left lane to proceed to B8. After c. 12 km, take one of the two left lanes and continue in the direction of B27 / Marktheidenfeld / Fulda / Heidelberg / Stadtring-Nord. Continue for another c. 3 km and change onto B27. After 23 km change onto B26 and go for another c. 16 km. At the town Gemünden, follow B26 at the first roundabout, but take the first exit at the second roundabout. You will arrive in Rieneck after another c. 5 km. Take the exit Rieneck-Nord and follow the map below.

By public transport

There is a train station in Rieneck. We will try to organize a pick up service from the station, for those who travel with Deutsche Bahn.
