

GERMAN YOUNG GEOMORPHOLOGISTS WORKSHOP: DIGITAL TERRAIN METHODS IN APPLIED GEOSCIENCES

Field work is getting increasingly complicated these days, with the wide variety of available methods and lack of time.

Many field measurement devices are expensive, and we have to carefully select the best methods for fieldwork...

However, many methods can easily be done with a smartphone, tablet, or small digicam. Even the local geoscientific authorities are going digital these days!

Join this workshop if you want to learn how to best use your smartphone/tablet and your small digicam during field work. You will also learn some easy methods in the field, which can be adopted in your own field work!
